As the new Chairman of the Department of Pathology at UTMB as of July, 2014, I am delighted to build on the decades of scientific contributions of this department in the area of infectious disease that arose from the strong leadership of Dr. David H. Walker. In the coming years, our clinical service lines of anatomic pathology and laboratory medicine will take a new approach to the provision of data for our clinicians. Information will come from our diagnostic experts in anatomic and clinical pathology as a personalized, expert driven narrative about the differential diagnosis for a patient evaluation. We will provide such information in all areas of diagnostic pathology. In addition, we will develop personalized interpretations that are disease-specific and have input not only from the pathologist, but also from investigators studying that particular disease. We will continuously develop and advance the initial concept of the diagnostic management team to maximize its positive clinical and financial impact.
